Re: Gutierrez, James Greg*November 21, 2014*Page 2

The alleged victim reported he was at another person's residence and had too much alcohol to drink to be able to drive himself home. He reportedly contacted a female named Aja Seymour to pick him up. The undersigned U.S. probation officer knows Ms. Seymour to be Mr. Gutierrez' former significant other. When Ms. Seymour arrived, Mr. Gutierrez and Donovan Smith were also with her. The alleged victim stated that Mr. Smith and Mr. Gutierrez began to assault him. Mr. Smith reportedly struck the alleged victim in the arms, legs, and head with a mini baseball bat. As the alleged victim went to the ground, Mr. Smith continued to hit him with the bat and kick him. Mr. Gutierrez also was kicking the alleged victim. The alleged victim was able to get away, get into his vehicle, and leave. He drove to Inchelium, Washington, where he received assistance. He did not know why Mr. Gutierrez and Mr. Smith assaulted him.

Based on the description of the residence the victim provided, the detective was able to determine the location where the alleged assault occurred. The detective obtained a search warrant. When the search warrant was executed at that location, a small wooden bat was seized near the front door that was approximately 2 ½ feet long.

Numerous addresses were contacted by law enforcement in an effort to locate Mr. Smith and Mr. Gutierrez. Mr. Gutierrez was eventually located and taken into custody. After receiving his Miranda Warning, Mr. Gutierrez agreed to speak with the investigating detective. He admitted to knowing both Mr. Smith and the alleged victim. However, Mr. Gutierrez reported being at his residence the entire night and had not left his home until approximately 8 a.m. Mr. Gutierrez reported to the detective that the alleged victim had attacked him the previous summer and bit him on his forehead. The detective observed a scar on Mr. Gutierrez's forehead, which he indicated was from the alleged victim.

Once at the Ferry County Jail, a copy of a search warrant was served to Mr. Gutierrez. Subsequently, Mr. Gutierrez' shoes were seized as a substance believed to be blood was observed on the bottom of his left shoe.
